

FRAUD AWARENESS LEAFLET

Fraudsters are increasingly targeting law firms, their clients and their client's customers in order to steal large sums of money.

At Wilson Nesbitt, we want to help you stay one step ahead of these fraudsters with the following advice:

- DO NOT give out your bank details unless you have verified the identity of the person you are speaking to in our firm AND are expecting a payment from us in connection with a transaction WE are handling.
- We will NEVER call or email you to change our bank details once they have been provided by your case handler.
- If you are paying us money by card we will NEVER take the card details in the same call. You will be provided with a number by your case handler to directly call our accounts team.

What should you do if you receive a call or email going against this advice?

- DO NOT SEND ANY MONEY!
- Call us immediately from a DIFFERENT phone to the one on which you received the call (in case the fraudster is still on the line).
- NEVER respond to any email in relation to money or your bank details, instead send us a new email or call us using the details on our correspondence to you or our website – www.wilson-nesbitt.com.
- If you receive any emails claiming to be from us that appear 'suspicious' or unusual DO NOT open or respond to these emails and immediately telephone us to verify their validity.
